Medication transitions made easy: No more confusion, just clarity.

Do you have regular medications and starting with Curative?
Here's the scoop:

1 Navigating the transition

If you've been under the wing of another insurance carrier, rest assured—we're here to make the switch to Curative seamless for you. Some medications may require prior authorization. To avoid any possible inconvenience and delay, Curative will automatically approve and fill ongoing medicines for one month from the plan start date. Subsequent fills will require prior authorizations for relevant medications.

2 Baseline onboarding

- Ongoing maintenance medications
- Drugs that require prior authorization and Non-formulary drugs
  (visit curative.com/drugs for more information)
- GLP-1 & high-cost medications are not eligible for pre-approval and will follow the standard prior authorization process

3 What to do next?

- Inform your new or existing physician they must submit a new prior authorization request
- The necessary forms are on our website: curative.com/prior-authorization
- Once we receive the request, the review process may take up to one week*
- If your doctor has already submitted a prior authorization, check with them to see if it has been approved for the full 12-month duration
